The Garden-Bench is an innovative urban furniture solution made of precast granite gray concrete with a rough appearance. This product differs from any conventional bench as it integrates a planter, providing dual functionality and a unique aesthetic design. Ideal for public and private spaces, it combines the practicality of a seat with the beauty of a green space.

Dual Design: Combines the functions of a bench and a planter in a single product.
Versatility: Can be placed as an isolated element or in groups, adapting to different spatial configurations.
Stability: Recommended anchorage supported by its own weight, no additional fasteners required.
Available in white granite concrete
